

A Message from Mark Twain

During the last half of the nineteenth century, Mark Twain was somehow connected to nearly every top executive and new invention. And his likeness was used to promote hundreds of products and companies.

My research into his material, as well as my corporate experience in numerous industries, have enabled me to write and deliver - as Mark Twain - kick-off speeches, dinner addresses, trade show product introductions, team building seminars, and much more for companies in IT, Pharmaceutical, Healthcare,

Government, Education and other industries.

Twain's humorous commentary spilled over into nearly every known field of expertise. Starting with Twain's material, I construct and deliver original addresses for many clients. Furthermore, I am the ONLY Twain impersonator who does this.

I invite your inquiry to discuss what I can do for your events. Start by reviewing my website. Then lets discuss the possibilities.

Alan Kitty